

A vibrant underwater scene featuring large yellow sponges, white coral, and orange crabs. The background is dark, making the colorful marine life stand out. The sponges are large and have a porous, yellowish texture. The coral is white and branching. Several orange crabs are visible, some on the coral and some on the sponges.

New Frontiers in Ocean Exploration

The E/V Nautilus, NOAA Ship Okeanos Explorer, and R/V Falkor 2018 Field Season

GUEST EDITORS

Nicole A. Raineault and Joanne Flanders

Oceanography

Vol. 32, No. 1, Supplement, March 2019