

2013 Munk Award

We are pleased to announce that Dr. Steve Holbrook has been selected as the 2013 recipient of The Walter Munk Award. This award is presented jointly by The Oceanography Society, the Office of Naval Research and the Office of the Oceanographer of the Navy. Dr. Holbrook will receive the award during the December Acoustical Society of America Meeting and he will also be recognized during the February 2014 Ocean Sciences Meeting. Steve will also give presentations at both meetings. To read his citation and other award details, click here.

Oceanography Magazine

Production of the special issue content of the June issue of Oceanography magazine is a bit behind schedule, however we have posted some great regular issue features online. Click here to view items including Rip Current – News in Oceanography, Ripple Marks, the 14th Annual Revelle Lecture, The Oceanography Classroom, Book Reviews, Career Profiles and a Policy Column. When the complete June issue is published all members will receive notice that it is in the mail and also available through Qmags, our online content provider.

Focus on upcoming TOS-sponsored conferences

2nd International Research Conference

From November 17 – 21, 2014, the Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission of UNESCO and The Oceanography Society will convene the 2nd International Ocean Research Conference (IRC) in Barcelona, Spain to discuss and plan the coming decade of international collaboration in marine sciences and technology. Click here to view the conference announcement. More details will be provided after the conference website is launched later this summer.

Ocean Optics XXII

Planning is well underway for the Ocean Optics XXII conference scheduled for October 26-31, 2014 in Portland, Maine. Click here to view the updated website which includes details about the venue and key dates. More information will be added to the website after the planning committee meets next week.

2014 Ocean Sciences Meeting The planning committee has just about completed the work of organizing the record number of sessions submitted for this event. The conference website will open within the next few weeks with details on abstract submission and registration procedures. We'll send a message to all TOS members informing you when the information is available.

Click here to see the list of all TOS-related conferences, including the next Oceans'13 MTS/IEEE meeting as well as the American Meteorological Meeting.